Definition of "Incurred"
The term "incurred" used throughout this form refers to the date you or your eligible dependent is provided the care that gives rise to the medical, dental, vision, prescription, or other qualifying expense. This date could be different than the date you are billed or pay for the expense. By IRS regulations, the date the service is incurred determines the plan year in which it is considered for reimbursement.
Additional Employee Certification
I certify the expenses for which I am claiming:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Were incurred by me or my eligible dependents (spouse is considered a dependent) during a plan year in which I and/or my dependent(s) were covered under this Plan. ◆ If over-the-counter medication or drugs; 1) were incurred solely to alleviate or treat personal injury or sickness, and 2) the quantity purchased is reasonably able to be consumed during the plan year in which it was incurred. ◆ Will not be claimed as a deduction or credit on any personal income tax return. ◆ Are eligible according to the terms of the Plan. If I've received a reimbursement for expenses later found ineligible, I will be responsible for taxes or penalties arising from the ineligible expenses. ◆ I understand that ProcessWorks may scan my claim and expense documentation and store them as digital images. My original claim and expense documentation may be destroyed by ProcessWorks within a reasonable time period after receipt. ◆ Health Savings Account (HSA) Owners – I understand that if I participate in both the Health Savings Account (HSA) and the Flexible Spending Account (FSA) or Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA), medical expenses for the FSA and HRA Plan are limited to dental, vision, and expenses incurred after the deductible is met under the high deductible health insurance plan. I certify the expenses I am claiming do not apply towards the deductible of my high deductible health insurance plan. I understand that if I am claiming medical expenses incurred after my medical deductible that I will attach an Explanation of Benefits from my insurance carrier that shows the medical deductible has been met.

Helpful Hints on How to Successfully File a Claim
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ Documentation must clearly list the date the service was incurred, provider name, type of service, patient name, and your portion of the service provided. ✓ If the expense incurred is reimbursable by an insurance company, you must submit the expense to the insurance company first. You can then use the Explanation of Benefits (EOB) received from the insurance company as your expense documentation. The EOB you receive from your insurance company is the best source of expense documentation for use in submitting your claims. ✓ Canceled checks, 'balance forward' statements, 'previous balance' statements, 'paid on account' statements or receipts, charge card receipts, or charge card statements are not acceptable forms of expense documentation according to the IRS as they do not clearly indicate the date of service or type of service. ✓ For prescription expenses, submit the prescription receipt you received with the medication purchased showing the patient name, medication name, the date the prescription was filled, and the amount you owe for the medication. Cash register receipts or charge slips for prescription purchases cannot be accepted as they do not indicate the medication name or patient. ✓ For over-the-counter medications, submit an original cash register receipt that clearly indicates the item name (such as cold medicine, antacid, allergy medicine, or pain reliever), date, and cost of the item purchased. According to the IRS, handwriting the required information on the receipt or attaching box tops or other product information to the receipt is NOT acceptable. Insufficiently documented claims are not eligible for reimbursement. ✓ Claims incurred during the plan year may be submitted at any time throughout the plan year or during the "run-off period". The run-off period is the additional length of the time following the end of the plan year to submit claims. Your plan may also allow a "grace period". The grace period is the additional time to incur expenses after the plan year ends. Claims incurred during the grace period will be paid from any remaining balance you have from the preceding plan year before being reimbursed from the current plan year. Check your Summary Plan Description (SPD) or with your Human Resource Department to see if the grace period is available to you. ✓ All expenses must be incurred prior to being considered for reimbursement. If the expense has not been incurred it is not eligible for reimbursement. ✓ Keep copies of your claim. You can submit legible photocopies of your expense documentation to ProcessWorks. If you require a copy of a submitted claim from ProcessWorks, a $25 fee will apply.
Some Expenses that are NOT Eligible For Reimbursement
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Dietary supplements or vitamins for general well-being ◆ Teeth bleaching or whitening ◆ Birthing classes ◆ Athletic or health club memberships ◆ Insurance premiums unless specifically included in your HRA plan 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Marital or family counseling ◆ Cosmetic surgery ◆ Rogaine or other hair growth medications ◆ Illegal operations or treatments ◆ Weight loss programs for general well-being
